MISS HELEN I. TOLMAN

Some lives
Are like the hidden power
Turning all wheels of work, making
all lights shine;
Themselves unpraised, unheralded,
sufficient for the task.
Such lives can never die ;
The world is builded on them.

SCHOOL AFFAIRS

THE PRINCIPALSHIP Choice & Change

No. 1 Principalship honor goes to tall, slim, vandyked, dynamic Carlos B. Ellis, [now retired], as father and founder of the school. "He looks like a millionaire, even if he isn't one. School-teachers have rewards, but not in money," said Bishop Hughes in an address to the pupils a few years before Principal Ellis's resignation.

Instructor and head of the commercial department established at Central High School in 1898 and transferred to Technical in 1906, in 1910 C. B. Ellis became principal of the separate commercial high school before it had a building of its own. The sessions were held afternoons at Central until 1915, when the present High School of Commerce was first occupied.

To his foresight, Springfield owes a debt of gratitude, for without it the High School of Commerce would have been housed in a smaller building, with equipment totally inadequate for the great increase in enrolment.

With dignity, honor, and the respect of all, Principal Ellis created a wonderful school spirit. He had an idea. He dreamed a dream, and it became reality.

¶ In 1930, Jerome Burtt, friendly, sympathetic man from Maine, Massachusetts, and Michigan, became the new principal. Innovator, he introduced Boys' Patrol and General Organization, both in good working order. Popular principal, in 1933 he left Springfield for a higher position in the state educational department.

¶ Erstwhile penmanship pedagogue at Commerce, and later principal at Evening High, Armory, and Van Sickle schools, Stanley O. Smith, business-like, forceful, took over the reins of administration in September 1933.

He "knows the ropes" and is in sympathy with the aims and ideals that have belonged since its beginning to the High School of Commerce:

"to give students an education which shall fit them not alone for business life, but also for intelligent and useful citizenship."

THE FACULTY Some Splendid Standbys

In 1898, the commercial department had 2 teachers; in 1906, 9; in 1910, 16, including French-Instructor Bigelow, Stenog-Chief Campbell, Drill-Mistress Dearborn, Prime-Minister Kelly, Accountant Macalpine, Councilor Roberts, and Book-keeper Sinsabaugh.

When the school marched up the hill into its new quarters, numbers grew. In 1915, 44 teachers sat at or on the brand-new desks, or stood professionally before them. These included, of the present faculty, besides the above-mentioned, Drama-Coach Allen, Office Danforth, Stenographer Danforth, Economist Halligan, Placement-Man Masters, Areop-Adviser Miller, Bankster Potter, and last but not least in the minds of Commercites, Cateress Campbell.

At present, faculty roll-call stands at 82, with 7 on the list of administrative officers.

STUDENTS Interesting Increase

1898—37 pupils
1906—310
1910—410
1916—1058
1934—2277

THE BUILDING Scenes & Statistics

Years ago, children could sail their toy ships in a miniature sea of fresh water on the site of the High School of Commerce. The pond dwindled, became swampy, and then was used as a dump. In 1910, year of purchase for school-site, it was filled with all sorts of rubbish. To furnish firm foundation for the new building, into this bog husky workmen drove 1236 concrete piles. The 220 by 275 feet, red brick, limestone-trimmed edifice, in an adapted Collegiate Tudor style, was completed May 1, 1915, at a cost of a million dollars for site, building, and equipment.

Each gym. has 3350 square feet of unobstructed floor space. But most of the school day, it is very much obstructed.

It takes fifteen gallons of ink to satisfy the thirsty inkwells, each time all in the building are filled. A new supply is always expected.

Fans draw in at the roof 141,000 cubic feet of fresh air every minute, believe it or not.

No. of rooms:
Basement—38
First floor—38
Second floor—36
Third floor—32
Total—144

The building was planned to accommodate 1500 pupils. Stairways at passing time are mute witnesses to the fact that conditions have changed since the "good old days."

Walking once around the inside of the building gives an eighth of mile hike to the walker.

A nation-wide inspector of high schools a few years ago called it the "cleanest high school in the United States." That is a splendid reputation to live up to.

We Must Leave Our School For Life's Work

Who knows what the future may have in store for the members of the January Class of 1934? Time alone can enlighten us. We prophesy, however, that its members will find success and happiness in various undertakings upon graduation from Commerce.

The majority will enter the business world. Able typists, speedy stenographers, accurate accountants, and competent bookkeepers will faithfully work for their employers and hold responsible positions. Some day we may see the rise of the filing clerk to the private secretary, the messenger boy to the head of his corporation, the accountant to the bank president!

Though Commerce is principally concerned with business training for its students, no doubt some of them will enter colleges and further their education along professional lines. Among their numbers there will in the future be teachers, doctors, scientists, or lawyers.

No doubt many of the girls of the January Class of 1934 will marry after a while. Even then their high school education will prove a great help to them, for they will then put to practical use the fundamentals of the course in Home Management, and they will establish happy homes.

Members of the January Class of 1934, we are no crystal gazers who can inform you what your life will be five, ten, or fifteen years from now. But we venture to give you sound advice. Have determination in your hearts—determination, courage, and a desire to succeed. With these qualities you will come out on top!

Perhaps you wonder why such a brief resumé of the prophecy is written. You will remember that at the play given on Class Day you heard the future of many of the individual members of the class forecast in rhyme. We are not printing these rhymes as they were not original with us, but were quoted from an outside source, and were adapted to our class by your prophets.

*Happy Years That Hurry By**

- Fred.* Say, do you remember that party we had three years ago before we left junior high school and that crazy game we played?
- Grace.* Of course! What was the name of it? And do you remember how funny George looked when he came—
- Fred.* Sure—and didn't we have some fun the next day when we entered high school! I thought I'd freeze to the sidewalk before I got there!
- Mary.* Uh huh! We went skating that Wednesday, January, 1931, and—
- Grace.* Did we have a good time! And will you ever forget the noise Tom made at the Freshman reception when Mr. Burt said he hoped we would enjoy our stay here?
- Anna.* Tom would—and strange to say, he was a maximum honor pupil—
- Tom.* Ah! Stop it! I was one until they changed the system of marking.
- Grace.* Will I ever forget those star divisions! I know, for I was in one.
- Tom.* Me, too! Then when we were XA's that tea dance we had! Didn't we think we were some dancers!
- Anna.* Wasn't Ted Russell a scream! As a chairman, he certainly took all honors.
- Dick.* We were some politicians in March, 1932, weren't we?
- Anna.* I agree with you there. Angelo Romito was president, wasn't he?
- Mary.* Yes, and not so bad, at that. He brought honor to our class by taking third place in the John S. Young Speaking Contest, and by winning the Stoaphilos debate.
- Dot.* Who was vice-president? Oh, I know, Helene Dupuis.
- Fred.* Oh! That girl!
- Tom.* I think Fred liked her a little.
- Fred.* Who was secretary?
- Dot.* Why, Lucy Kalpakian.
- Dick.* I'd hate to have had her job.
- Grace.* It really isn't so bad as that that Doris Roos had as treasurer.
- George.* And you remember Madeline Labrie was auditor. Now that is my idea of an office to hold. Just add up a few figures—
- Dot.* I'll say. Then that G. O. business—
- George.* Will I ever forget the time I had to dig down for the first month's dues, and I was supposed to take Anna to the theater that night—
- Fred.* And instead you stayed home and helped her with her home work. Too bad!
- Anna.* He promised he'd take me to the next social.
- Lynn.* Say, we didn't have one that year!
- Dot.* Oh, yes, we did! Don't you remember how we had that number together and you tripped and fell?
- Dick.* Fell? He made a hole in the floor! But we had the social on March 11, 1933.
- Mary.* And later on came the Faculty Frolic!
- Fred.* That was something! Mr. Jackson was one poet, I'm telling you!
- Anna.* Fred, your English.

Fred. It's O. K. I had Mr. Jackson for English!

Grace. Did you ever! Tom talked just like that at the club dance!

George. That was a great dance! Right before Memorial Day, wasn't it?

Tom. No, that was before the Twin-State One Act Play Contest at Westfield.

Grace. The One-Act Play Contest was in May and the Club dance was around the end of May, so you're all wrong!

Fred. Weren't we lucky to get into the finals of that contest?

Lynn. Yes, but we won in the final contest the year before, you remember.

Anna. And then we became Seniors.

Mary. And then the new officers were elected and Paul Noffke was president.

Lynn. Sotirios Papafrangos was vice-president, wasn't he?

Tom. Right, the last time. Lucy Kalpakian was re-elected secretary.

George. No doubt she deserved it. So did Doris Roos and Madeline Labrie.

Dick. Were they re-elected?

Grace. Yes, Stupid, didn't you hear George say so?

Anna. Hush, Grace. By the way, do any of you know that new dance?

Tom. Yeah—what a dance! And we boys have got to be on our toes plenty about these dance steps.

Mary. You're not really as bad as that—but there's lots of room for improvement. The Tech prom isn't very far off, so you'd better get busy. You didn't do any too well at our prom.

Fred. Say, when is Tech prom?

All. January 19!

Dot. Poor Fred. He's just a little foggy—

Grace. You mean in a daze. I do hope he knows what fork to use at the banquet.

Fred. Say—when is—

All. Our banquet is on January 24.

Fred. Oh, great!

Tom. "Oh"—what? At least you're not so dumb you don't know when graduation is.

Grace. In June—thank heavens! Now, I won't have to buy an expensive white dress.

Lynn. You girls have it chicky—but us guys—

Anna. Us guys—ugh! If you don't watch your step, you'll have to start high school all over again.

Lynn. What do you mean—again?

George. Well—er—a—don't you think it's getting pretty early—I mean late?

Lynn. Why no! It's only ten o'clock.

Grace. What's the matter with our practicing for the Tech Prom? Turn on the victrola, someone.

Some Famous Dates and Twins

The birthdays of our faculty are scattered through the year;
December, January too, bring seven birthday-cheer.

Miss Casey's stocking ought to prove old Santa Claus no myth,
With Christmas and her birthday, too, December twenty-fifth.

And February, although short, has interesting features.
It brings, for instance, birthday gifts to fifteen of our teachers.

It has, in all, four sets of twins, [in date though not in name],
A record that no other month can equal as a claim.

Miss Colby and Miss Horrigan the first day celebrate;
Miss Tourtellotte and Mrs. Madsen join in when it's eight.

Miss Jefferson has Mrs. M. H. Davis as her twin;
A lucky 13 is the day, so they're both bound to win.

"Doc" Melville, Miss Bianchi, as alike as South and North,
Can bid each other, "Hello, Twin," on Feb'ry twenty-fourth.

Another large distinction famous February acquires:
In Leap Year, on the twenty-ninth, was born the young Chief Myers.

[We call him young, you know, because his birthdays have been few.
Perhaps that's why he leaps so well, and does good tumbling, too].

In March and in October, too, five birthday dates are seen,
With Mr. Williams, on St. Pat's, a-wearin' of the green.

The Danforth Twins, so much alike, can almost celebrate
On Hallowe'en, except that it comes just a day too late.

And Mr. Smith, our principal, missed it the other way,
For he was born upon All Saints', November first, next day.

Miss Clark has 19th April, so a Patriot we'll rate her;
Miss Jenks, Miss Sinsabaugh, more twins, have birthdays one day later.

In golfing, hazards, rivalry, and bunkers add a thrill;
Miss Lynch, a golfer, celebrates the Day of Bunker Hill.

A July date, July thirteenth, calls forth the birthday cake man
Two ladies to congratulate: Miss Fisher and Miss Blakeman.

We recognize much talent on September twenty-two,
With Misses Hunt and Marsden [they have proved what they can do].

In April, May, and June come six, and six come in September;
The lowest, August, has but four; eight each, July, November.

By now we find it difficult more names and dates to stuff in,
But can't leave out December seventh,—Miss Bell and Mr. Duffin.

LAST DAZE OF A SENIOR

"Ho-hum! Wonder if I should do my English?"
"What are you going to wear to the Prom.?"
"Your picture is too adorable for words."
"What's happened to the senior arm bands?"
"Wonder what Class Day will be like?"
"Hope I can get a decent job."
"Did you see the new diplomas?"
"Don't forget, I want a picture."
"Now I can sleep in the morning."
"I wonder if I'll miss school."
"I'm going to enjoy myself these last days."
"I hope the banquet is informal."
"I'm dying to see what girl Paul Noffke will take to the Prom."

A Timely Will

We, the class of January, 1934, of the High School of Commerce, City of Springfield, County of Hampden, and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being in full possession of all our faculties, do now record our last will and testament. It is our purpose to dispose of our various chattels that each may go to the most deserving heirs.

1. To Mr. Burt, who during his three years here, endeared himself to us by his friendly council and impartiality, we wish the best of luck in his new position.

2. To Mr. Smith, our new principal, we also leave our best wishes, and regret that we have not a longer time to stay with him.

3. To our home room teachers, the profound admiration and ever-enduring friendship of the class of January, 1934.

4. Although it is with genuine tears in our eyes that we are compelled to vacate them, we nevertheless leave our seats in this hall to the XIIB Class and sincerely hope they may spend as many enjoyable moments in them as we have.

5. We leave behind with many misgivings all such pupils as were not able to keep pace with such brilliant pupils as compose the majority of our class, trusting that the XIIB Class may be able to hold firmly to them and steer them successfully through next semester's harrowing studies.

6. To the football team of next year, the ability of Paul Quinn and Don Ferguson.

7. To James Donovan, Ada Moore's gift of gab.

8. To Flora Barbieri, Frank Di Santi leaves this case of lip-stick, lest she should run out of it in the future.

9. Helen Cummings leaves this picture of herself to Ruth Bechard, lest in the years to come, she should forget that at one time they were mistaken for twins.

10. Theodore Russell leaves his individual ability in regard to getting along with teachers to Guido Berti, who needs it so badly.

11. Lucy Kalpakian, our class secretary, leaves this notebook to her successor, John Garvey.

12. Doris Roos, our class treasurer, leaves this treasury box to Frank Galli, her successor, and hopes that next semester it will hold all the money which the seniors decide to pay at the last minute.

13. To Roy Yarnell, Paul Noffke leaves his executive ability.

14. To Miss Humberston of the office staff, we leave this extra pair of goggles to help her to a closer scrutiny of the marks of the football players.

15. To anyone who needs them, Edna Lambert leaves her ready smile and twinkling eyes. Apply early to avoid the rush.

16. Bessie Schlaferman leaves her library passes to Margaret Spellacy.

17. Margaret Reynolds leaves her schoolgirl blushes to anyone who needs them.

18. Angelo Romito, knowing the utter humiliation and embarrassment suffered by twins who are exact duplicates, has painted these two very lovely signs to be used to aid all who find difficulty in telling which is Miss Alice and which is Miss Anna Danforth.

19. After much persuasion, Mae Spaight finally deprived herself of one of her curls, which she leaves to Kirby Miller.

20. Alice Menge, editor, and the associate editors of Commerce leave this gallon of gasoline to Mr. Chatto to recompense him for the gas he has used in taking them home from the print shop on Wednesday nights.

21. We direct that a bench be provided outside of 106 for Anna Fabry and Robert Bodry, that they may more comfortably enjoy their morning siesta.

22. Emma Bergeron leaves her petiteness to Mary McMasters of the XIIB class.

23. We leave this dictionary to Sotirios Papafrangos so that he may learn the meanings of the few words that he is not already acquainted with.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF we have hereunto subscribed our names and fixed our seal this sixteenth day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four.

Class Song

Words by Doris Roos

Music by Liborio Campagna

Farewell now to the school days
At our dear old Commerce High;
Farewell now to the three years
That we part from with a sigh.
Bright school days filled with joyous
Happy hours of work and play
Quickly seem to fade and pass away.

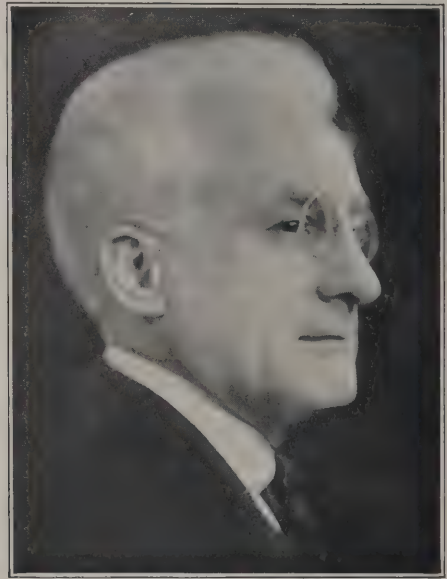

Time may bring a sad parting
From our school and comrades true,
When we must all set out to
See life's major projects through;
But we shall all remember
As we climb the ladder high,
Knowledge was gained at dear old
COMMERCE HIGH.

“Those Glad Free Hours of School Life”

[HISTORY OF CLASS OF JUNE, 1934]

Setting: At one end of the stage a large chair and footstool are placed. Before the middle slit of the curtain is a beaver board made to represent the cover of a Scrap Book.

Time: Class Day.

PROLOGUE

Enter a Girl [carrying a large writing pad. She walks wearily over to the chair and sits down while scowling peevishly.]

“The history of the class of ‘34. Of all the terrible things to have to write! Put some life into it’, they said, ‘and make it seem as interesting on paper as it really was.’ Well, I’ve tried to do as they asked. I’ve used reams and reams of paper and this is the best I can do. [Reading]

‘In September 1931, Commerce opened her door

And a group of Freshies stepped inside—

The class of ‘34.’

But I can’t go any further and I must have this finished to be handed in for Caduceus. Oh, bother this history, and, bother Caduceus—I’m so tired of this, and so-o sle-e-py.” [She nods her head and finally falls asleep.]

I

FRESHMAN YEAR

[The Scrap Book door is opened and a group of two girls and two boys step out dressed in clothes suggestive of Freshies, such as short gingham dresses, hair-ribbons, bows instead of neckties, and slates. They join hands and sing.]

FRESHIE DAYS

[To tune of “School Days”]

Freshie days! Freshie days!

Dear old high school freshie days.

We came to Commerce to learn how to be

A salesman, accountant, or secretary.

We learned how to sing our high school song,

To cheer at a game, laugh all day long;

But our answers in tests were usually wrong,

When we were such green freshman.

First Girl [addressing the sleeping one]:

Don’t you remember the very first day

That we entered Commerce for our three year stay?

With wild beating hearts and eyes opened wide,

We opened the doors and stepped boldly inside

To find classmates and teachers, strange and new,

Classes, assemblies, games—grand things to do!

The Freshman Reception was our first event,

When a “get acquainted” evening was happily spent

By freshies and parents, who had been forced to come,

Especially the Dads, by a threat to leave home.

First Boy:

And who will forget those first football days?

The girls didn’t know who made the plays

But insisted on yelling at every down.

What fun to have our team win the victor’s crown,

To buy a “hot dog”, to cheer and to sing.

And to feel ourselves part of the whole, grand thing!

[Door opens to allow two cheer leaders, dressed in white with red C’s, to enter and sing “Bingo” with the freshies.]

Second Girl:

At our first election we suffered no loss
When we chose as our leader our friend Shirley Ross.
As vice-president, or Shirley's great helper,
We appointed our classmate, Kirby Miller.
Bob Hamel was chosen the records to write,
And Lucy Boyajy to keep funds locked up tight.
Our class affairs were well in charge
With these officers plus Garvey as member-at-large.

Second Boy:

Our youthful pride was hurt very soon,
For socials were held in the afternoon.
The boys, very bashful, watched the girls
Circle the floor in neat steps and swirls;
But after refreshments they took the chance
To ask the ladies to share the dance.
So dancing and music and gay laughter, too,
Left the class with a spirit of friendship more true.
[The door opens and the Freshman group exits while softly humming
"Freshie Days."]

II

JUNIOR YEAR

[Again the door opens to allow a group of three Juniors to appear. They step forward and sing "The Junior's Way." ]

THE JUNIOR'S WAY

[Sung to tune of "The Student's Way."]

We find it is the rule, sir,
To gaze upon the school, sir,
And to think each freshie a fool, sir—
For we are Juniors now.

Chorus

For we are Juniors now,
For we are Junior now,
It's a way we have at school, sir
It's a way we have at school, sir
We think each freshie a fool, sir,
For we are Juniors now.

We've reached a grand old age, sir,
We've turned another page, sir
And find we're at the stage, sir—
Of being Juniors now.

[Repeat Chorus]

First Junior: [Addresses sleeping girl]

Can't you remember the pride that we knew,
When we found our year as Freshmen was through?
How nice to feel that we could grin
At newer Freshies—just come in.

At elections, knowing again we would need her,
We chose Shirley Ross as our class leader.
Dot Galow as vice-president; Dot Kelly as scribe
John Garvey and Frank Galli finished the tribe.

Second Junior:

At Christmas time on Old Folks' Day,
A chance to do good came our way.
Our guests were pleased and clapped their hands
For Christmases in Foreign Lands.
[Lucille LaBreque dressed in French peasant costume steps from the door and sings an old French carol.]

Third Junior:

„ As Juniors we took great delight
In having our socials held at night.
The boys were less bashful, and the "wallflowers" few.
For each person could bring a guest with him too.
So we again had the chance
To find gay, happy fellowship at each dance.
[Juniors exit softly singing their song.]

III
SENIOR YEAR

[The huge scrap book door swings open and a group of seniors, dressed in caps and gowns, step forward and sing "Now That We Are Seniors."]

NOW THAT WE ARE SENIORS

[Sung to tune "When I Was A Lady"]

Now that we are seniors, we feel quite grand
To know that graduation is soon at hand.
Our banquet and class day
Will soon mark the end
Of three happy school years
We came here to spend.

First Girl:

The Freshie and Junior years have passed,
And we find that we are Seniors at last.
Posters and slogans marked our last election;
But in the end we made the wise selection
Of Roy Yarnell as president. And equally good
As vice-president we chose Elliott Wood.
Garvey was secretary and as keeper of the bank
We chose a fellow commonly called Frank.
For member-at-large, we knew what to do—
We appointed a gay helper—our friend Lou.

First Boy:

Our arm bands gave us great satisfaction
But the signatures drove teachers nearly to distraction.
Our picture-taking proved that we
Were not as handsome as we hoped to be.
And then came the preparation for senior days.
The line-up for marching and the rehearsing of plays.

Second Girl:

So now in story, song, and play
We celebrate our Senior Class Day.
And in a few weeks, not far ahead,
With food and drink we'll have our spread.
Then the awaited-for time will come—
Music, flowers, gay clothes—our Prom.

Second Boy:

Once more the band will play, and again
A class will march to its slow refrain.
Another class will come to the end
Of three years full of learning and friends.
Another class in white array
Will celebrate Graduation Day.

Third Girl:

L'ENVOI

And thus our schooling ends:
Bit by bit we've climbed until
We stand on the side of a little hill
Called learning.
And pulling upward with our friends
Straining, climbing to the top
We have never known a stop,
Or turning.
For shining brightly on the ledge,
Resting like a golden crown.
The sun of knowledge glowing down
Is burning.
We fought upward toward the edge
Reaching, grasping for the light
Finding truth, and good, and right
In learning.

[Scrap Book door opens allowing all the members who have taken part in preceding scenes to step forward and sing with the Seniors the second stanza of Commerce].

Voting Time—June Class Ballot

- Roland: Now that we have counted all the ballots, let's look at the final results. What is the first item on the ballot?
- Dorothy: The first is Boy Most Likely to Succeed, the honors going to Roy Yarnell, followed rather closely by Elliott Wood.
- Roland: Looking over these results, I find that Elliott received a large number of votes for various things. He is first as the Best Boy Student, Boy with Most Pleasing Personality, and second as Class Heartbreaker and Best Dressed Boy.
- Dorothy: Shirley Ross has been chosen Girl Most Likely to Succeed, beating Dorothy Gralow by a very small margin.
- Roland: The next honorable position, Best Girl Student, goes to Helen Malone.
- Dorothy: The next few are the talented members of the class: Dominick Staltare was chosen the Class Artist; Class Poet is Guido Berti followed very closely by Frances Youngs; Frances Youngs is also the Class Musician and Dominick Fiorillo is next in line for that position; the Class Singer is Lucille LaBrecque; the Class Dancer is Estelle Auger, with Irma Battistini and Chester Borecki not far behind.
- Roland: I see that Albert Feldman was almost unanimously chosen Best Boy Athlete. He was also chosen the Best All-Round Boy, and the Most Popular Boy.
- Dorothy: The Best Girl Athlete is Karleene Baxter.
- Roland: Shirley Ross is the Girl with the Most Pleasing Personality. She is also the Most Popular Girl and The Girl Who has Done Most for the Class.
- Dorothy: I see that you were chosen the Class Heartbreaker. Elizabeth Leary, the Prettiest Girl, comes in second as Best Dressed Girl, with Beatrice Frankel receiving first honors.
- Roland: The Best Dressed Boy is Philip Mayher. Did you know that Kirby Miller had quite a number of votes? She is the Best All-Round Girl, and is the second most popular girl.
- Dorothy: Alan Marceau is the Teacher's Delight [wouldn't you know that?] and also the Most Conscientious Boy. The Most Conscientious Girl is Dorothy Gralow.
- Roland: Ludwig Witkowski has been chosen the Class Bachelor. The next item is really funny. Class Man Hater! with four contestants. Zelma Solomon, first; Helen Katz and Julia Wood tied for second; and Marvis Bacon only one vote behind.
- Dorothy: Edward Brownhill has been chosen Class Bluffer and Class Pest. John Garvey is Class Brag, and also received first honors as Noisiest Boy.
- Roland: The Class Borrower is Lucy Boyajy, with Chester Borecki a close second. Veronica Maroney was chosen the Class Giggler with very little competition.
- Dorothy: Lucille LaBrecque was voted the Noisiest Girl. The Most Inquisitive Person is Mildred Sisson, followed very, very closely by Marjorie Wood. The Sleepiest Boy—can you guess?—Chester Borecki.
- Roland: Now, the Favorite Man Teacher and Favorite Woman Teacher. Mr. McKerley leads the men and Miss Davis, the women.
- Dorothy: And last but not least—The Boy Who Has Done Most for the Class, everyone agrees, is Frank Galli.

Years Ahead

June Class Prophecy

It was shortly after the last exciting week of graduation, and the lull in activities was proving tiresome. A walk under the warm June skies seemed a pleasant way of refreshing ourselves, so arm in arm, we, Dorothy Gralow, and Bessie Cohen, walked down Alchemy Lane gaily chatting of our banquet, prom., and graduation, and now and then we tried to peer into the future to discern with what success and fortune our classmates would meet.

It was with some annoyance that these pleasant thoughts were disturbed by a flustered, disheveled figure which rushed out of a doorway nearby. We were surprised to hear Ruth Congdon, who since graduation had been a chemist's apprentice, excitedly exclaim, "I've found it! — the time reducing compound, one drop of which will make ten years seem like ten minutes!" Recognizing us as friends, she pointed to a half-hidden little shop and explained that her momentous discovery, which she was now hurrying to report, was on the work table inside.

Needless to say, we welcomed even this seeming foolishness as an adventure. Stooping low, we clambered into this cubby-hole of a shop, but were very much disappointed to find only a grape juice bottle filled with a purplish liquid lying on the table. It was stuffy within the shop, and, as our long walk had made us weary, we did not hesitate to sip the harmless looking juice. We both continued to feel drowsy, so we slumped into chairs nearby and closed our eyes to relax and refresh ourselves.

We awoke to find a very much matured Ruth Congdon anxiously bending over us. She sobbed with joy and relief to see us awake again, for, after nine years, she had just succeeded in finding an antidote for the grape juice we had so carelessly drunk. Imagine our amazement when we realized the predicament we had been in. We understood that after Ruth's nervous strain, she needed quiet, so we left the shop, and, being women, our first thought was to get some new clothes.

After walking along a few streets, we came upon Mme. B. Frankel's Chic Dress Shop, in which we found Mary Haggerty, Edna Butts, and Lillian Askinoss modeling the latest Paris creations. We soon purchased a complete wardrobe, after which we felt ready to view the world which had changed so greatly in nine years.

Outside the shop, a flashy looking salesman, none other than our Taso Eliopoulos, was inducing the public to purchase a new contraption which he termed "The Autoplane", explaining how it would operate in the air as well as on land. Anxious to help an old classmate, we bought an autoplane and headed toward Comgrad City, the city of Commerce Graduates, which happened to be halfway between here and there and 60° north of nowhere.

We finally landed on the broad roof of Hotel Wanamore where we were met by Alan Marceau, a bellboy, who introduced us to the gracious proprietor, Elliott Wood. Going downstairs, we found Dorothy Frisbie in charge of the register on which appeared many familiar names, such as Jean Cowe, business woman; Dr. Victor Marchetti; Lady Lucille Brodeur, and Shirley Ross, prominent news-reporter.

We were assigned to two pleasant suites in charge of a dainty maid, Edna Weake. Since dinner would be served in the main dining room in one hour, we had ample time to change and to look over the hotel. We finally sat down to a delicious meal which was supervised by Marjorie Whitaker, head waitress. Opposite us sat Count and Countess Witkowski who seemed to be enjoying themselves immensely.

After dinner, we adjourned to the ballroom where a snappy jazz orchestra, led by Sylvia Rubinow, was playing an old favorite, "Dinah", while Lucille LaBrecque, famous songbird, sang the chorus.

There happened to be the Smith Brothers' circus in town the next day, so in our autplane we headed for the circus grounds. We were just in time to hear the barker, John Garvey, announce the big show, the main feature of which was a high dive of 50 feet, made by Estelle Auger. The athletic Baxter Twins, Karleene and Kathryn, made us gasp with excitement at their daring stunts on the trapeze, and Donald Ray amazed us with his ravenous appetite for sword swallowing. After passing to the side show, we were delighted to see the world's smallest midget, Sol Dietz, seated beside the world's largest woman, Mary McMaster.

Outside there was the usual bustle of the circus grounds. Approaching a group of children we found them circled around Dominick Fiorille, who was playing his accordion while a saucy little monkey danced before a delighted audience. A peanut-vender's cry of "P-E-A-N-U-T-S" reached our ears, and we scurried across the way to find Thomas Catter in charge of a peanut stall. As we passed by the peanut vender, we found Edith Kopelman in charge of a hot-dog stand. There she was, gayly dressed in white cap and apron, flipping nice brown dogs with great skill and precision. As we were passing out of the grounds, we bought the Comgrad Times from a newsboy, Samuel Poulos. Imagine our interest to find it edited by Barbara Hollis and Helen Malone, co-editors.

On the way to the hotel, we drove by the Vodio Theatre where Roland Courtemanche and Myrtle Knowlton were being starred in the picture, "Love 'Em and Leave 'Em".

As guests of the hotel, we had been invited to attend a luncheon given in honor of the Honorable Roy Yarnell, mayor of Comgrad City. The guest speakers were Ernest Remillard, scientist, and Marvis Bacon, missionary to China. At this time, we had the occasion to meet the city's champion ping-pong players — Abe Feldman, Chester Borecki, and Bernard Adler. With them was an old friend John Zanetti and his wife, the former Priscilla Burbank, who was having a difficult time keeping John, Junior, from eating his cream puff with one bite. Seated at our table were Robert Hamel, a prosperous business man, with his secretary, Fanny Galloni, and Sylvia Snyder, elocutionist.

Up to this time, we had not had an opportunity to see the city itself, so we were delighted to have the mayor offer to show us around. Driving through the home section, we noticed several housewives, Daisy Montovani, Doris Haskell, Alice Hurley, and Marion Locke, gossiping probably about everything except the weather.

We next visited the town's new bank, where Felix Brenner, detective, suspiciously observed each new-comer. Under the able leadership of Frank Galli, Dorothy Kelly and Claire Caron acted as chief accountants.

At the city library, we were greeted by Frances Chant, head librarian, who introduced us to Dorothy Favreau, head of the children's room, and Nellie Hoffman, who was in charge of the high school section.

Our second evening in Comgrad City was spent at a recently opened night club, where we met Kirby Miller and Ruth Bechard who were with two handsome escorts. Rita Manning was the vivacious cigarette girl, who winked now and then at the orchestra leader, Ernest Lopez.

The next day we awoke to find a heavy fog enveloping the city. The mist clinging about the building and the dismal sound of horns and brakes half deadened by the wet clouds of fog seemed to foretell unpleasant happenings.

The morning dragged on slowly, so, in order to while the time away, we hopped into our autoplane with the intention of going nowhere in particular; alas, we had scarcely ascended into the air when Myles Gaffney, officer of the law, signaled to us to descend. Much bewildered, we were told that we had to go to court because we had taken someone else's autoplane. And that was quite a serious offense in Comgrad City.

Fortunately for us, there happened to be in court that morning Lawyer Jeanette Composti, who willingly agreed to defend us. We were very nervous throughout the trial. Our counsel did the best she could. The verdict was ready. The judge slowly read our sentence. "Because the court finds you guilty, I find it necessary to require you to leave Comgrad City within twenty-four hours, never to return."

Oh, it was heartbreaking to have to leave Comgrad City, the city where all our friends were, but we had to go. After packing our things at the hotel, we climbed into our autoplane. With a sad farewell to everybody and everything, and with much grief and sorrow in our hearts, we zoomed into the air on our journey back to our starting point.

PROPHETS:

Time and Time Again

MISS ROBERTS: "Even if this is the last period, I shall not stand for any foolishness."

MISS CASEY: "You Journalism students waste too much paper."

MISS MORROW: "No talking, or you will remain after 2:30."

MR. A. H. SMITH: "You boys have sponges in your heads; when a test comes, the sponge runs dry."

MR. MELVILLE: "Now, when I was in the Marines—"

MR. POTTER: "Pay your dues, or miss the basketball game."

MISS HALLIGAN: "Your notebooks are due tomorrow."

MISS JENKS: "I am going to embarrass you, but I must make you write correct grammar."

MISS ALLEN: "Ready, curtain. Put a little more action in your part, boy. Now please don't be bashful."

MISS WALKER: "E's are the result of failure to make up work."

MR. CHATTO: "Editors will please give out your assignments; don't let anyone loaf."

MR. MASTERS: "No lockers unlocked until 2:45. Don't forget your key again."

MR. JACKSON: "Now, out Belchertown way, we don't—"

MR. MACALPINE: "Neat work is a real asset."

MR. MYERS: "We'll go out as soon as weather permits."

MR. PEASE: "American Literature, my friends, is a beautiful study of the development of Modern America."

PRINCIPAL S. O. SMITH: "More homework."

MR. WILLIAMS: "A little more attention, please."

MR. MCKERLEY: "No running, boys."

MR. PARMENTER: "When I went to Maine, I met—"

MR. MILLER: "A lawyer should do what his conscience bids him to do, not what money makes him want to do."

MR. WALKER: "Let me see your cash proof now, class."

MR. SHIPWAY: "Now, I consider the book reference very abstract."

MRS. ULLERY: "Don't forget your book reports if you want to pass this course".

MISS FLYNN: "You sweet, gentle child."

MISS LYNCH: "Too many credits might cause you some difficulty."

MISS JUDD: "Now in regard to mental health."

A Time to Give

BE IT REMEMBERED that we, the June Class of 1934, of the High School of Commerce in the City of Springfield in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound mind and memory, but knowing the uncertainty of this life, do make this our last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills by us at any time heretofore made.

After the payment of our just debts and funeral charges, we bequeath and devise as follows:

1. To our former principal, Jerome Burt, we leave our sincere appreciation for his friendship and leadership during his administration here, and to our new principal, Stanley O. Smith, appreciation for the efforts he fostered to improve conditions in the school.

2. To the faculty, we leave our gratitude for their excellent teaching.

3. To our class advisers, Mrs. Palmer, Miss Nelligan, and Mr. Macalpine, we leave our expressions of deep feeling for their able and willing help in guiding our class through three years of great success.

4. To the Caduceus advisers, Mr. Melville, Miss Johnson, and Miss Marsden, the staff of Caduceus leaves grateful thanks for their help in compiling the year-book.

5. President Roy Yarnell leaves this gavel to the president of the XIIB class, Robert Wooster, wishing him much success.

6. "Count" Witkowski leaves his famous green suit to Robert "Butch" Wooster.

7. To Mr. Walker we leave a pair of scissors to cut out parts of the Accounting 3 textbook that do not suit his fancy.

8. To Mr. Macalpine we leave this pencil-sharpener for his homeroom, so that his bookkeeping students will not be destitute of one.

9. To "Doc" Melville and Belding F. Jackson we leave joint partnership in this new jokebook, so that they won't have to make use of the old "gags".

10. To Charlie Walker, Robert Hamel leaves this jar of vaseline, so that his hair will always stay smooth.

11. Frank Galli leaves the keys to his blue car to Edwin Satter, to enjoy such rendezvous as Cupid's Inn, Wayside Inn, etc.

12. We present this club to the Boys' Patrol to help enforce the law in the corridors.

13. Shirley Ross leaves her reputation to Frances Young.

14. Philip Mayher leaves his delicate schoolboy complexion, costing fifty-nine cents at Liggett's, to Harriet Wall.

15. John Garvey leaves his picture to John Garvey XIIB, so that the latter can prove his identity to Miss Nelligan and other doubting pedagogues.

In testimony whereof we hereunto set our hands and in the presence of four witnesses declare this to be our last will this sixteenth day of May in the year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-four.

ROY YARNELL

On this sixteenth day of May, A. D. 1934, the June Class of 1934 of The High School of Commerce in the City of Springfield, Massachusetts, signed the foregoing instrument in our presence, declaring it to be its last will; and thereafter as witnesses thereof we four, at its request, in its presence, and in the presence of each other, hereto subscribe our names.

Class Song

Now our school days are nearly o'er
And our life's work lies before,
When the long road that awaits our tread
Will lead us far from the books that we've read.
We must leave the friends we've known
Striving on alone.
Reluctantly we say good-bye
To the school that we love — Commerce High.

Dear old Commerce, we want to say
You'll remind us of happy days.
Kind thoughts of you will come back to us
Through the long years we will think of you thus.
With integrity we go on
Carrying industry on.
With loyalty and friendship true
On our banners, we'll carry it through.

Smile A While

SIZE PLUS

CHET BORECKI: "I can't get my clothes locker shut."

CHIEF MYERS: "Take your shoes out."

LOGICAL THINKING

JOHN GARVEY: "What is the most downtrodden race?"

SHIRLEY ROSS: "The pedestrian."

JUST BEFORE THE BATTLE

DOT KELLY: "Gee, Nora, I'd love to be a soda jerker."

NORA BURATI: "You would? Why?"

DOT KELLY: "They lead such stirring lives."

MODERN LITERATURE

MRS. ULLERY: "What did Sir Walter Raleigh say to Queen Elizabeth when he offered her the use of his cloak?"

GUIDO BERTI: [After a long pause]: "Step on it, Lizzie!"

BE SOCIABLE

LUDWIG WITKOWSKI: "Let's think hard now."

ROBERT HAMEL: "No, let's do something you can do, too."

HAL JONES: "You should never do anything which you would be ashamed for the whole world to see."

CLEVER FRESHIE: "Oh, goody, I'll never take another shower."

CONSOLATION

Don't worry if your job is small

And your rewards are few;

Remember that the mighty oak,

Was once a nut like you.

THE CHEMISTRY FLASH

MR. BROOKS: "Taso, name three articles containing starch."

TASO ELIOPOULOS: "Two cuffs and a collar."

MODERN GRAMMAR

MR. CHATTO: "What part of speech is ashcan, Robert?"

ROBERT DAY: "Collective noun."

FRIDAY AT LAST

MR. KELLY: "This is the fifth time you have been late this week. What have you got to say for yourself?"

CLEVER STUDENT: "I'm glad it's Friday."

IT WOULDN'T BE RIGHT

JOHN GARVEY: "Roy, could you help me with my accounting?"

ROY YARNELL: "I could, but it wouldn't be right."

JOHN GARVEY: "No - - - I don't suppose it would, but have a try at it, anyhow."

MODERN YOUTH

MR. MELVILLE: "Mr. Catter, what is Lincoln's immortal slogan?"

TOM CATTER: "AMERICA'S FINEST AUTOMOBILE."

COMMERCE WIT

CHET BORECKI: "Did you make the team, Steve?"

STEVE MOTHERWAY: "No, this is one of my off seasons."

FINALE

We editors may dig and toil,

Till our finger tips are sore,

But some Commercite is sure to say,

"I've heard that joke before."

Although the High School of Commerce basketball team, coached by "Hal" Jones, and co-captained by Albert Feldman and Chester Borecki did not succeed in clinching the interschool titles this season, they passed many of their previous records by winning nine games and losing only five. Their average was .642 and they are in 11th place on the Western Massachusetts list.

The team had many handicaps throughout the season, but managed to pull through and at one time had both city and inter-school titles in the palms of their hands, only to let it slip through their fingers. During the beginning of the season, Hy Neigher, former All-City basketball performer, and Ernest Walker were ineligible to put in their services because of scholastic difficulties. Not only this, but Guido Berti, Crimson forward candidate, broke his ankle just when the season was under way, and his services were discontinued. Charles Davidson and Bernard Adler, forwards, also missed playing in two games because of foot injuries.

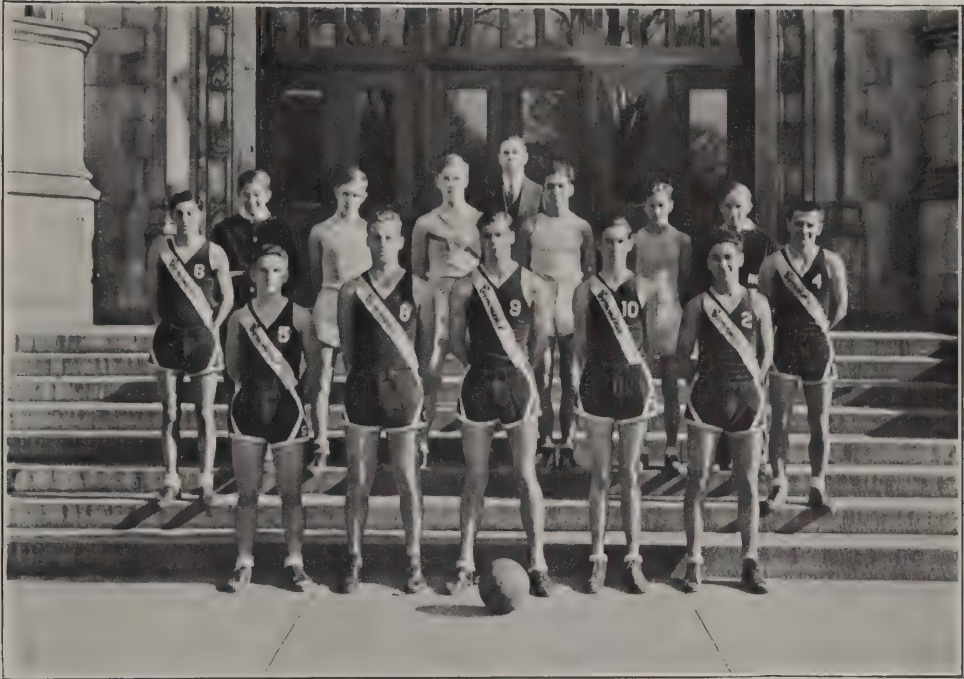

After weeks of patient practising and playing pre-season games against Alumni players and a few pick-up teams, the Crimson players started the season.

Their first match was an out-of-town game against Easthampton, in which the locals had little difficulty. For their first game the boys played extremely well; their passwork clicked and their shooting was accurate. Although handicapped by low beams hanging from the ceiling, Commerce managed to more than double Easthampton's score 29-12. Yvon, Davidson, and Adler were outstanding.

During the next encounter, the Crimson defeated the Williams High boys who were among the leading teams in their vicinity, 42-21, with Feldman and Yvon hitting double figures.

Commerce not only lost their third game against Technical High, 19-12, but also their forward, Guido Berti, who, while on a jump ball fell on his ankle and chipped the bone.

Paced by the Reil Brothers, Turners Falls put up a stubborn battle, nosing out ahead in the end with the score 27-23. Commerce put up a strong defense to keep the score as they did, for last season the Powertowners defeated the Crimson team, who were then the interschool champions. Yvon, Neigher, and Feldman played well for Commerce.

The next four games Commerce won, beating the three city teams and Agawam to put them ahead in the City race. The scores were: Commerce 29—Trade 21. In the Cathedral game which Commerce won 22-16, Borecki, All-City man last and this year, proved his ability by holding Eugene Sullivan, last year's All-Valley forward, to five points while he garnered five of the Commerce points from Sullivan.

The next victory for Commerce was against the highly rated Tech High Team. Charles Davidson, a flashy Crimson forward, broke through the Tigers' defense and scored three times from the floor and twice from the charity station before the game was three minutes old. Yvon scored ten points for Commerce, while Schawer was high man for Tech, with five points. The final score was Commerce 28—Technical 19.

Commerce journeyed to Agawam to defeat a weak Agawam team 32-25. Yvon, Feldman, and Lagunowich stood out for Commerce, while Feranti was the shining light for the losers.

A foul toss by Mike Raffaele in the last thirty seconds of the second overtime period gave the Trade Beavers a 25-24 victory over Commerce and also a tie for city and interschool honors. As the regulation period ended, the score stood 20-20. In the first overtime period, Davidson and Lagunowich scored baskets for Commerce, but Giovanelli and Rutherford tallied for the Beavers and the gun ended the first overtime period. With 30 seconds to play, Raffaele made the foul, and the gun sounded to make the game history.

Bewildered by West Springfield's dazzling attack, the Commerce High quintet suffered its fourth defeat of the season, when the Westsiders handed them a 24-12 beating. Abe Feldman starred both on the defense and the offense for Commerce.

With Yvon, Borecki, and Adler playing well for Commerce, they defeated a weak Holyoke High five by the score of 27-10.

With first place in the interschool title in their grasp, an inspired Commerce team turned back Tech for the second time of the season with a 28-24 victory. Lagunowich and Feldman were outstanding for Commerce.

Paced by Lagunowich and Feldman, the Commerce defeated the Amherst High cagesters by a score 20-10. Bob Cramer was outstanding for the losers.

The last game of the season found the Trade Beavers making many difficult shots, and when the final whistle blew, Commerce found themselves on the short end of a 25-23 score. Art Rutherford, Trade forward, was shifted to center and scored 13 points to win the interschool scoring title.

Commerce had four players on the All-City team. Abe Feldman was made honorary captain on the mythical team, playing a guard position. He also was awarded a position on the All-Western Massachusetts team.

"Chet" Borecki, "Buss" Yvon, and "Mike" Lagunowich all made the Springfield Union's mythical All-City team.

The High School of Commerce football team opened one of their most successful seasons, winning five out of the seven games played. They piled up 37 points and their opponents scored 33 points against them.

In their opening game the Crimson Raiders traveled out of town to beat Amherst High 13-6, led by Guido Berti's sensational run of 70 yards when he intercepted a pass during the opening minutes of the game. Al Appleman scored the remaining points.

During the next encounter, the Commerce team defeated the Chicopee eleven 6-0 when Appleman scored after a fifteen-yard run around the right end to decide the hard fought struggle, which was played at Pratt Field.

Turners Falls emerged from the next game with a 7-0 victory over the Crimson at Turners Falls.

Commerce returned to the victory column by winning a very exciting and interesting match against Palmer 6-0. Frank Di Santi, Crimson tackle, recovered a Palmer fumble on his opponents 15-yard stripe, and Abe Feldman took the ball over after a series of hard line plunges. This game was marked by hard, clean playing on the part of both teams.

The powerful Tech High machine ran rough-shod over Commerce 26-0 in the next game at League Park. The Crimson did well to hold the superior Tiger to such a score, considering the comparative strength of the teams.

A short nine-yard pass from Chet Borecki to Walt Yvon scored the six points that Commerce was able to register over the Trade Beavers during the next game.

The final game with Central proved to be a thriller! After fighting back and forth, up and down the field for the greater part of three periods, Al "Apples" Appleman dropped back to his own 25-yard line and with a desperate effort, shot a long pass to Walt Yvon on the Central 37-yard marker. Yvon caught the ball while on the run and went over the line for a 6-0 victory.

The Crimson 1933 football team boasts of four All-City men. They are as follows: Albert Appleman, Frank Di Santi, Walter Yvon, and Henry Huettnier.

Holyoke then took the measure of Commerce, but the team continued to improve and in the following game against Tech, after Feldman had been touched for five runs in the first two innings, Ferguson returned Abe's previous favor by taking over the pitching duties and steering Commerce home to its first victory of the season, 12-6.

Commerce upset all prophecies in the next match by defeating Cathedral High four to one. Abe Feldman pitched the entire game, allowing seven hits and proving himself a master in the pinches. This game marked the first baseball victory a Commerce team has taken from the Elliot Streeters since the beginning of the seasonal series seven years ago.

Continuing on the road to success, the Crimson triumphed over Amherst by the score of 10 to 4 in the next encounter.

The remainder of the season was marked by mediocre success. Central was defeated. Holyoke defeated the Crimson twice, but Trade, Palmer, and Tech triumphed in that order.

The season was concluded by a victory over Central at the Ruth Elizabeth Playground, 5-0.

Had it not been for scholastic difficulties, Neigher, Appleman, and Yvon would have been a great help to their teammates and also would have possibly been chosen on the All-City squad.

Three Crimson boys were chosen on the All-City teams for their performances on the diamond. These boys are Israel Cohen, left fielder; Abe Feldman, pitcher; and Francis Silvia, short stop.

The Commerce Soccer Team ended a dreary 1933 season by winning their last and only game from Trade by the score of 2-1.

The squad seemed to be jinxed from the start because at the first practice only twenty-five men reported. Of these the majority were freshmen with little or no experience and many had dropped out before the next turn-out. There were but five veterans to build a team around. As the season got underway, the team lost the service of "Pop" Dow, 1932 veteran, who went under the knife for an appendicitis operation. Later, Hay Rees, center halfback, was unable to continue for the Commercites because of an injured ankle.

The team started off with a losing streak against Central and could not break it although "Ed" Jones, outside left wing, succeeded in scoring one goal after taking continual shots at the blue and white posts. The score was Central 3—Commerce 1.

They lost the first nine games but succeeded in winning their last game after an overtime period against Trade.

Annual Decathlon, April, 1933

The 1933 Indoor Decathlon was won by the class of June 1934 with a total of 40 points to its credit.

Other classes that competed, scored as follows: June 1933, 22 points; June 1935, 21 $\frac{3}{4}$  points; January 1936, 13 points; January 1935, 11 points, January 1934, 2 $\frac{1}{4}$  points.

Although the XIA's were the victors, Francis Devaney and David Hodgson, XIIA's, gained honors in both tying and breaking past records.

Hodgson tied Les Maynard's 1929 record in the high jump of five feet, five inches, while Devaney broke Joseph Tomczak's previous record of seven feet, four inches in the spring board high jump, by two inches.

Feldman and Huettner made it possible for the XIA's to win by such a large margin with the high points that they received, Feldman scoring the most, 9 $\frac{3}{4}$  points.

THE SUMMARY

High Jump—Won by Hodgson XIIA, Livermore XIA, second, George XIA third, Bernert XA, Giustina XA, Walker XA tied for fourth place. Height 5 feet 5 inches.

Decisive Moments in Girls' Athletics

Because of weather conditions the interschool hockey and soccer schedules were not completed; but Commerce emerged victorious from all games played. These are the only two interschool games, but there are other sports which are interclass, and these are participated in by many enthusiastic girls.

Interclass basketball, baseball, and volleyball take place in late winter and early spring. The basketball games take place in the Gym.; the baseball and volleyball games in the Armory Grounds. During the spring, three tournaments take place; lawn tennis, deck tennis, and horse-shoes. During the winter, there are classes in the Gymnasium where the girls indulge in squad work and dancing. A gym. meet, an annual affair, is held at the end of the season.

G. A. A. INITIATION PARTY

Once every semester, freshman girls are initiated into the Girls' Athletic Association. The president sets the date of the initiation and decides the costume to be worn throughout the day by the "Freshies". The initiates then gather, at night, in the Gym., where they take part in the initiation ceremony. The XB's entertain the guests and a prize is given to the best performer. After that, the rest of the evening is spent in dancing, and refreshments are served.

CHAMPIONS

The girls in the June 1934 class have been the most successful in sports of any group ever attending Commerce. They were the first ever to win the gym. meet in the freshman year. The following spring they won all the baseball honors from the junior and senior classes.

The next year they did not have such a good showing at the gym. meet, but turned to basketball for honors. They defeated the senior team and the much-favored junior class team. Fresh from their victorious basketball season, they stepped right into baseball with the right foot forward and again won the baseball championship.

Thus far in their career the girls in the June 1934 class have won one gym. meet and three championships, besides having a large number on the varsity soccer and hockey teams.
